The exam paper uses the same questions every year. The only difference is that the texts and writing tasks change.

Students need to practise:

- Reading unseen texts
- Planning reading answers
- Writing reading answers
- Planning the written task
- Writing the written task

Students are sometimes too confident about the unseen element as they can read or write. For the exam, they need to write and read in a particular way and these need practising.

The English Language exam are based on a student's reading of an unseen fiction extract and two unseen non-fiction extracts. Therefore, students need to get comfortable reading extracts. The following websites are good for finding articles and extracts:

How to revise in English

Flashcards/Quizzing

- Quick and easy to do
- Can do short bursts (10-20mins)
- Helps you to see what you do and don't know
- Makes you prioritise the knowledge you don't know
- Makes things stick

Brain Dump/Revision Clock

- Focuses on your memory
- Helps you to see what is missing from your memory on a topic
- Need very few resources – paper and pen
- Produces a resource you can reuse later

Reducing/Converting

- Involves watching videos or listening to podcasts
- Actively doing something with knowledge
- Get to see other people's ideas and viewpoints
- Allows you to revisit whole texts and explanations repeatedly

Drafting and Practising

- Takes you through the thinking process of exams
- Prepares you for what might come up – you could reuse an idea or a sentence
- Builds confidence
- Helps show areas of need
- Can use AI to support you

Don't do these things:

- # Focus on what you know and find easy
- # Focus on English Language and not Literature

Don't do these things:

- # Copy out endless notes
- # Watch the film – the film doesn't teach techniques
